

What does the title suggest about the book? (Consider your expectations.)

---

---

Read the front and back jacket of the book. What can you tell about the genre, the characters, and author?

---

---

Read the first paragraph, and/or the introduction to the story. What can you now expect? What elements has the author introduced to you? (Consider setting, characters, plot, etc.) What is the author's style? Are you intrigued?

---

---

What visuals are included in the book (flip through it)? How might they aid your reading or interpretation? (What do they suggest?)

---

---

What do you already know about or expect from the author?

---

---

Keep a running list of vocabulary terms on the back of this bookmark.

What does the title suggest about the book? (Consider your expectations.)

---

---

Read the front and back jacket of the book. What can you tell about the genre, the characters, and author?

---

---

Read the first paragraph, and/or the introduction to the story. What can you now expect? What elements has the author introduced to you? (Consider setting, characters, plot, etc.) What is the author's style? Are you intrigued?

---

---

What visuals are included in the book (flip through it)? How might they aid your reading or interpretation? (What do they suggest?)

---

---

What do you already know about or expect from the author?

---

---

Keep a running list of vocabulary terms on the back of this bookmark.

What does the title suggest about the book? (Consider your expectations.)

---

---

Read the front and back jacket of the book. What can you tell about the genre, the characters, and author?

---

---

Read the first paragraph, and/or the introduction to the story. What can you now expect? What elements has the author introduced to you? (Consider setting, characters, plot, etc.) What is the author's style? Are you intrigued?

---

---

What visuals are included in the book (flip through it)? How might they aid your reading or interpretation? (What do they suggest?)

---

---

What do you already know about or expect from the author?

---

---

Keep a running list of vocabulary terms on the back of this bookmark.

What does the title suggest about the book? (Consider your expectations.)

---

---

Read the front and back jacket of the book. What can you tell about the genre, the characters, and author?

---

---

Read the first paragraph, and/or the introduction to the story. What can you now expect? What elements has the author introduced to you? (Consider setting, characters, plot, etc.) What is the author's style? Are you intrigued?

---

---

What visuals are included in the book (flip through it)? How might they aid your reading or interpretation? (What do they suggest?)

---

---

What do you already know about or expect from the author?

---

---

Keep a running list of vocabulary terms on the back of this bookmark.